Transport

There are different public transport services in Barcelona: Metro, bus, tram or taxi. You can check the city's various types of transport tickets and travel cards:

- A one-way public transport journey in Barcelona costs 2.40€ and is only valid for a one-way journey without any transfers between the various means of transportation. You can purchase a single ticket in any of the ticket offices and ticket vending machines at the entrance of any of the city's subway stations or from the bus drivers.
- The T - Casual travel card is a 10-journey ticket and allows transfers, but only in a limited time frame. You can use up to four different types of means of transport and three changes.
- The travel card Hola BCN! is the perfect travel pass for travelers that are visiting Barcelona for 2, 3, 4, or 5 days. It includes unlimited access to the city's public transport and includes metro journeys between the Airport and the city center.

Apps such as Uber, Bolt or Cabify can also be used.
